The Client Journey

Congratulations! A potential client has found your web site and has decided to use your firm to solve a legal problem or meet a legal need.

Now...here's what happens next (when a client selects an Attorney Prepared Legal Document):

1. Registration at Firm Site.
2. Login to MyLegalAffairs™ web space
3. Select document and purchase via credit card online
4. Access, Complete and Submit the online Questionnaire(s)
5. Attorney Review (communicate/clarify with client if necessary)
6. Upload of Client's completed documents to MyLegalAffairs™ web space (client notified via e-mail).

Each client's MyLegalAffairs™ web space ("client space") contains other interactive features, such as: the ability to purchase legal advice services when needed; communicate & share files with the firm (Collaboration); obtain info on upcoming dates/events; update personal information; and pay Legal Invoices via online credit card payment.

IMPORTANT NOTE! Prospective clients accept the terms and conditions of the firm's Limited Services Agreement during the registration process. A conflict of interests check must be conducted prior to the delivery of legal services. The parties' name(s) is/are used as the basis for the conflicts check. The firm must cross-check its own database/list of all clients to determine if any conflicts exist. If a conflict exists, a refund will be promptly issued.

Using the Administrative Area ("Attorney Dashboard")

All client data, client-attorney communications, and e-commerce functions (refunds, pricing, doc/service selections, etc.) are accessed and managed through your Administrative Area ("Attorney Dashboard").

The link and username/password to access your Attorney Dashboard are provided by DirectLaw™ following the launch of your platform. Your Attorney Dashboard is also easily accessible via the Admin link in the footer of your DirectLaw™ platform. Simply scroll to the bottom of any page on your DirectLaw platform and click on the Admin link.

The Attorney Dashboard Functionality:

- 1) Retrieve/download client Questionnaires (documents) for review;
- 2) Manage your Legal Advice and Legal & Court Coaching clients' information, questions and your responses;
- 3) Manage your Legal Document Review Service clients and associated documents;
- 4) Customize Store – set pricing, select document and service offerings, etc.;
- 5) Retrieve client information (name, account info, e-mail, etc.) – Client Admin;
- 6) Communicate & Share Files with clients;
- 7) Post events (such as phone calls, important dates, etc.) on a clients' Calendar tab;
- 8) Review web sales based on defined timeframes (i.e., sales for July 2008) process refunds, etc. (Transactions tab); and
- 9) Manage and update your DirectLaw™ platform account information (username, password, address, etc.) – the My Account tab.
- 10) Upload Legal Invoices to client accounts for payment via credit card online.

The following sections will provide specific information on how to use the functionality listed above.

Retrieve and Download Client Questionnaires (Documents)

Following purchase at the firm's web site, the client accesses the Questionnaire(s) via the MyLegalAffairs™ web space.

The client "Questionnaire" is, in effect, the actual document (in Rapdiocs format). Within the client-facing MyLegalAffairs™ web space, the document is presented to the client as a Questionnaire. Only the questions and associated explanation boxes are presented to the client – the assembly of the actual document(s) has been suppressed.

After completion, the client submits the Questionnaire(s) and a Questionnaire submission notification is provided via e-mail to the attorney (or other designated firm staff member).

The attorney or other firm staff member retrieves/downloads the Questionnaire (document) for review, editing if needed, and eventual upload to the client's MyLegalAffairs™ web space, as follows:

1. Log into your Attorney Dashboard.
2. Click on the Document Preparation tab. Typically the page will default to this section upon login.
3. Below the heading "Document," a list of document names will appear and represent each client's submitted Questionnaire(s.) The documents are listed in subject-area groups (i.e., divorce; wills, etc.) If a client has purchased more than one document, scroll through the list of document names to locate all Questionnaires associated with a particular client. The client's name and information on the date/time when the Questionnaire was submitted is listed to the right of each document name.

- The options listed under “Action” allow the attorney or staff member to Upload a Completed Document to the client’s MyLegalAffairs™ web space or Reopen a Questionnaire that is either incomplete or needs to be reviewed/edited by the client in order to finalize the client’s documents.

Use of the Reopen Questionnaire link will return a Questionnaire to the client’s MyLegalAffairs™ web space. Notify the client that this action has been taken; request that the client return to the account to review/edit the Questionnaire; save all responses; and re-submit the Questionnaire(s) to continue the progress on the document(s).

- Please also refer to the on-screen Instructions with the Document Preparation tab for additional details on downloading, reviewing/editing, completing and uploading documents to the client’s MyLegalAffairs™ web space. (See: Figure 1.0)

Manage Your Legal Advice and Legal/Court Coaching Clients

The DirectLaw™ Virtual Law Firm Platform enables the sale of legal advice via three (3) delivery methods: (1) telephone, (2) e-mail and/or (3) web cam.

The platform also enables you to offer Legal & Court Coaching Services.

Prospective clients select these services from your main MyLegalAffairs™ menu of services. A registered client may also select any of these services from within their MyLegalAffairs™ web space.

After purchase, a Legal Advice by Phone or Web Cam client schedules a date/time to speak with the attorney by phone. Similarly, after purchase, a Legal Advice E-mail client sends a question via e-mail to the attorney.

In either situation, the attorney responds in a reasonable amount of time, for example, within 24-48 hours of receipt of an e-mail legal advice question. Information regarding response times for Legal Advice clients should be clearly explained and posted on your web site.

Legal Advice Purchases –Info and Functions

The Legal Advice tab contains links/sections for each type of Legal Advice service you are offering. The Legal Advice tab allows you to manage each advice purchase and mark it as completed when the client's matter/question has been resolved/answered. (See: Figure 2.0)
